

Credit/No Credit Contract

Rhode Island College Registrar's Office

Academic policies at Rhode Island College specify that all undergraduate students are entitled to take courses under the Credit/No Credit option. The limitations on this policy are:

1. Not more than one course per semester under this option.
2. The total number of courses taken Credit/No Credit and counted toward graduation shall not exceed six. Student Teaching is a course taken under the Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory (S/U) basis, this course shall not be counted in the six.
3. Students are allowed to study all course work in General Studies and any course work taken as Area Distribution Electives under this option provided such ADE's are not being double counted toward the student's second major, concentration, minor or cognate requirement.
4. Students in Teaching Education programs cannot take courses in the professional sequence of their program under this option. However, specialized requirements in Elementary Education programs, which are double counted as ADE's can use this option.
5. A course in a student's major, concentration, minor or cognate cannot be taken Credit/No Credit.
6. No course studied as a General Education requirement may be taken Credit/No Credit.
7. A Student must file for this Credit/No Credit option by the end of the withdrawal deadline.
8. Grading – The term Cr/NCR is used where CR is given to students who achieve, A, B, C, or D work. NCR is given to students who earned a failing grade. Courses passed with CR count toward graduation but are not figured in the grade point average. Courses graded NCR do not count toward graduation and are not computed in the grade points.
